Doña Paula Los Cardos, Mendoza, Lujan de Cuyo, Cabernet Sauvignon 2007, $8.99-$11.67

Named Los Cardos for the thistle plant, which apparently thrives in the vineyards at Doña Paula, this cabernet sauvignon shows the classical aromas and flavors of black currant. The focus of the winemaking regimen is the juicy black fruit with only a small portion of the wine having spent a couple of months in oak. The result is an easy-drinking wine that's priced to enjoy with a burger. Available at Central Market, Goody Goody Liquor, Mr. G's Beverage Center, Sam's Club and Market Street.
